IMPORTANT NOTES FOR HOSPITAL VISITS

Priest chaplains: Whether going to the hospital for a scheduled procedure or for an emergency, make sure to make it clear that you are a "Catholic" and that you want a visit by a priest chaplain for the sacraments. This is important because some hospitals no longer ask you. In some cases, parishioners who have been admitted to the hospital, were not asked and were listed as having "no religion."

Emergencies: In an emergency at home, call the parish priest immediately after calling the ambulance. It is easier for him to administer the sacraments at your home than to get access to you in the emergency room. Also, if you are going to the hospital in an emergency, ask for the hospital chaplain before calling for your parish priest. Even if a Rabbi or Protestant minister comes, tell them you want a priest. The chaplain is usually on site and can get to you most quickly. Moreover, the chaplain has special privileges to go into areas where non chaplains may not be allowed. Of course, if the priest chaplain is for some reason not available, call your parish priest. And even after the chaplain gets to you, inform your parish priest that you would like a follow up visit. He wants to know you are in the hospital and visit you. But remember that the chaplain is like the pastor of the hospital.

Scheduled procedures: If you are going to the hospital for a procedure for a medical condition, talk to your parish priest before you go. Set up a time to celebrate the sacraments of confession and anointing of the sick. Strengthening the health of the soul can have a profound impact on physical bodily healing.

LENTEN FASTING AND ABSTINENCE

During the season of Lent, the Church urges the faithful to cultivate the virtue of penance in their daily lives through performing acts of almsgiving, liturgical and personal prayer, and fasting and abstinence. To all of these, our Lord Jesus Christ set the example. However, it was His fasting in the desert for 40 days and nights that inspires our Lenten fasting and abstinence. Moreover, he expects us to fast in His Sermon on the Mount and His Apostles remained faithful to the discipline of fasting as seen from the Book of Acts. Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, this year on February 18 and ends on Holy Thursday, April 2. Ash Wednesday and Good Friday (April 3) are days of both fasting and abstinence. Fasting and abstinence are grave matter according to Church law. Therefore, to knowingly and willingly violate them without a dispensation or reasonable excuse is a mortal sin.

FASTING means limiting one's consumption of food. On days of fast, only one full meal a day may be eaten. Two smaller meals can be eaten to maintain physical strength but together the two meals should not equal the full meal in quantity. In practice, there have been two acceptable ways to determine the quantity of food. The absolute norm, according to the custom of the Church in the United States, is that the morning meal would not exceed two ounces and the evening meal would not exceed eight ounces. As far as the law of the Church is concerned, there is no limitation to the quantity of food that may be eaten at the full meal, except that the natural law of temperance must be observed to avoid the sin of gluttony. Also, this full meal should not be prolonged for more than two hours. Since 1952, the Bishops of the United States have adopted the relative norm. This norm is relative to each person's particular needs (physiology, size, health, work, etc.). The relative norm means a person may eat a sufficient amount at the morning and evening meal so as to be able to perform his or her daily tasks without too great an inconvenience, but in such a way that he or she eats less than usual, and that these two smaller meals do not together equal the one full meal of this particular individual. Thus, if one's full meal were twenty four ounces, one's morning meal would be six ounces and the evening meal twelve ounces. On fast days, snacking between meals is not permitted. The fast is not broken by liquids, as long as they are not too nourishing. For example, water, ginger ale, tea, coffee, even with milk and sugar, milk, fruit juices, wine, and beer are allowed between meals as well as at meals. Soup, cream, a thick shake, or smoothie, etc. are forbidden between meals. Catholics ages 18-59 are obligated to fast on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. Those with serious health problems and those whose work would seriously be affected are dispensed from the fast. But, those taking advantage of these mitigations should compensate by prayer, more frequent reception of the sacraments, almsgiving, etc. In doubt, a priest should be consulted. Those who are not specifically obligated to fast are encouraged to join in the discipline of fasting to the extent that they are able.

ABSTINENCE forbids the eating of meat which comes from warm-blooded land animals. Snails, frogs, and snakes may be eaten. Soups made from meat are forbidden, but Church law allows condiments, even those made from the fat of animals, such as lard and drippings from fat. All Catholics aged 14 and older are obligated to abstain from meat. However, in the United States and other places where those under 14 are not malnourished are encouraged to practice abstinence from meat. Abstinence binds under the pain of mortal sin although a priest can grant a dispensation or commutation for a grave reason. Thus, Catholics should consult a priest if they have a doubt on this matter. Finally, Catholics are required under the Church's Precept to fulfill their EASTER DUTY by both a sincere confession to a priest with a firm resolution to avoid mortal sin and near occasions of mortal sin and a worthy reception of Holy Communion. The time to fulfill the Easter Duty extends from the First Sunday of Lent (February 22) to Holy Trinity Sunday (May 31).

LUNAR NEW YEAR!

中國除夕 |

Sometimes called Chinese New Year, Lunar New Year is traditionally celebrated in many parts of East Asia. It is a fifteen day festival for families to reunite for meals and to honor their ancestors. This year it begins Tuesday, February 17, 2026.

Happy New Year of “Gong hey faht choy” is the greeting in Cantonese spoken in Hong Kong. In Mandarin, the official language of the Republic of China in Taiwan and Communist China in the Mainland, the same greeting is “Gong xi fa cai” (pronounced gong she fa tsai).

This would include soups, canned stews, pancake mix, instant oatmeal packets, hot chocolate packets, canned fruit, hamburger helper, Knorr pasta and rice sides and shelf stable milk.

We continue to need flour, sugar, salt, pepper, spices (cinnamon, onion powder, garlic powder are popular), ketchup, mustard, mayonnaise, paper towels, toilet paper, napkins, tissues, detergent, shampoo, soap, dish soap, band aids, toothpaste, snacks, candy, and granola bars. Remember to donate NON-PERISHABLE and NOT EXPIRED items!

Thank you, from the Hyde Park Food Pantry

PARISHIONER'S RECIPE

SWEET POTATO PEANUT STEW

1/4 c. of peanut oil
1 onion chopped
1 red or green bell pepper chopped
1 fresh jalapeno, seeded and minced
4 cloves garlic, minced
1 packed tbsp. minced peeled fresh ginger

Ann Thibault

1 tbsp. chili powder
1 tsp. cumin
1/2 tsp. red pepper flakes
2 or 3 sweet potatoes, peeled and cut into 1 1/2" pieces
1/2 c. tomato paste
salt & pepper

Heat in a large, heavy saucepan over medium-low heat the peanut oil. Add the onion, pepper and jalapeño and cook until the vegetables are tender but not brown, about 8 - 10 minutes. Add garlic and ginger and cook for another 2 to 3 minutes and stir in chili powder, cumin and red pepper flakes.

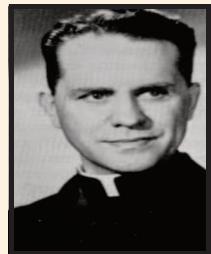

Cook for 1 minute and add remaining ingredients. Now add enough water to just cover the vegetables and mix well. Bring to a boil, lower the heat, cover and simmer for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Add 1/2 c. of peanut butter (smooth or chunky) to about a 1 cup of stew, stir well, then pour back into the rest of the stew, stir well.

Cook for another 15 minutes.

Serve on hot rice.

** I found this recipe in the "Joy of Cooking" cookbook. It's a hot and spicy meal that I serve with white rice and lentils.
