From Fr. Mark Livingston

Happy Sunday! God bless each of you and your loved ones! In my last article, I promised that I would address the somewhat common dilemma in many hearts, “Is the Eucharist holy and so to be avoided because of our imperfection, or medicine and so all should feel comfortable receiving him?” On the one end of the spectrum—the Eucharist is holy and to be avoided because of imperfection—persons often struggle with the torture of scrupulosity, in which a person is plagued by even the slightest imperfections in daily life, including both commissions (acts committed) and omissions (acts not committed but believed they “should have been”). On the other end of the spectrum—the Eucharist is medicine and all should be able to receive him whenever they want—persons often struggle with the presumption of God’s mercy, thinking that no matter what sins they have committed, they deserve to receive Jesus as a right even without having to go to confession because “Jesus understands and forgives”. The answer is in the middle, not on these two poles of scrupulosity and presumption.

Scripture tells us that some sin is deadly (1 John 5:17). This means that some sin is not. Persons struggling with scrupulosity are tortured with the belief that all sin is deadly and that even things that are just conditions of our broken and fallen humanity, like not noticing the slightest suffering of another in a chaotic situation are grave sins. They often believe that no sin can really be forgiven and they are hopelessly trapped in a cycle of sin that is seemingly unbreakable. Jesus disagrees; he came to free us.

Persons struggling with presumption, presume (or assume) God’s mercy without expressing their repentance in the way Jesus presents to us as the ordinary way, which is Confession or the Sacrament of Reconciliation, especially when we have committed a mortal sin. This is a terrible spiritual and relational poverty. They believe that all sin will be forgiven simply because they are loved by God and made in his image and likeness. In their hearts and minds there is no need for repentance because “Jesus will understand”. Jesus disagrees with them; he came that we would repent, believe, be baptized, celebrate the sacraments (“do this in remembrance of me”) and, then, be free and have abundant life!

The conscience is a tricky thing. Some of us have adopted a view that all things are sin. Others have adopted the view that nothing is sin. Both of these come from a troubled conscience. We are called by the Church to form our consciences according to God’s teachings in Scripture and Church Teaching (i.e., the Catechism of the Catholic Church). We should not think that “conscience” means “whatever I feel like doing whenever I feel like it”. No way! We are called to discern Truth out of a “well-formed” conscience, conformed to the heart and mind of Jesus. This means that those who struggle with scrupulosity would understand and live his merciful and understanding love for them more, and those who struggle with presumption would understand and live their need for repentance so as not to experience God’s justice in the final judgment.

So, “Is the Eucharist holy and so to be avoided because of our imperfection, or medicine and so all should feel comfortable receiving him?” The Eucharist is Jesus Christ himself. He is both supremely holy and dwells in unapproachable light and He is supremely merciful and approachable. This means that, as we pray, “I am not worthy to enter under your roof ... but only say the word and my soul shall be healed,” we speak a profound theological truth. As fallen creatures, we are not worthy to approach God, but he took on our flesh and made us worthy, especially those who believe in him, repent, are baptized and remain in him. In other words, he “said the word” of life, he “worthified” us by his grace, and wants us to be healed through Confession and subsequent reception of the Eucharist.

If you feel like every thought and action is a sin and so feel the need to run

Liturgical Ministries Fair September 23-24, 2023 Holy Family St. Augustine St. Mary Mystical Rose

"All who are baptized need to understand that part of their duty regarding liturgy is to accept some responsibility for the liturgy, to place themselves and their God-given talents at the service of the liturgical community whenever possible."

-United States Conference of Catholic Bishops

What are your God-given talents? Have you considered how God might be calling you to use them in His church? As the USCCB states above, part of our duty (for those who are able) is to fill key roles in our liturgical celebrations. Such roles may include lector, server, extraordinary minister of Holy Communion, sacristan, usher, choir member, environmental decorator, etc. We understand that everyone's circumstances are different. We simply ask that you consider which ministry works best for you and your family, then try it out because WE NEED YOU!

We invite you to please join us at any of our parishes on September 23rd -24th for a Liturgical Ministries Fair immediately following each mass. Please consider where your talents can best serve the Lord's Church right here in our community.

"Be not afraid."

The Lord does not call the qualified, but qualifies the called!

Thank God for ANSWERED PRAYERS

by John Kowalski
Director of Engagement

There's an old saying, "If you want to hear God laugh, tell Him your plans." A parishioner recently emailed me a story of how God changed his plans one day for the better. Here is his story:

I want to tell you a story about how God used me for His Glory. It was Monday August 28th and I had 3 possible things to do after work. I could attend a men's conference, I could pick up my daughter from her employment meeting, or I could go to the visitation for my cousin's mother-in-law (whom I'd never met). A problem at work kept me from leaving early enough to make the men's group and my daughter's friend was able to take her home so, I was off to the funeral home. At the funeral home, my cousin came to me told me that the Priest who was supposed to lead the Rosary couldn't make it and asked if I would do it. I went to the microphone and, knowing that not all in the audience knew about the rosary, I was able to explain its purpose and the mysteries we would be praying about.

God has a plan for us and, if we are open to it, He can do great things through us. I was blessed to be able to play a small part in helping a family during a time of need. God sent me where I was needed most and as a result, I was able to remind the family and friends of the deceased's devotion to the Catholic Faith, the Rosary and above all to God. We all need to remember to keep ourselves in communion with God, because we never know when He may call upon us.

St. Augustine Catholic School spreads the Good NEWS by Navigating a Christian course, Educating body, mind and spirit, Worshipping the Lord, and Serving others.

Back to School 2023 Let the Memories Begin

By Janet Savoyard
Middle School Teacher

Many years ago I was working on my elementary education program at Oakland University. It seemed that one of the first assignments in every teacher preparation class I walked into had the same assignment. The instructions were, "Write about a teacher that made an impact on you and inspired you to want to be a teacher."

I always submitted an essay about the same teacher. He was my eighth grade homeroom teacher, Mr. Rivard. I can honestly say that I do not remember much about the history or language classes he taught. In fact, those never were my favorite subjects and, unfortunately, they still aren't. So, he wasn't quite able to change my attitude about certain school subjects. What he did do, though, is so much more important than teaching me facts and lessons from the textbooks. Mr. Rivard challenged me to do things I didn't think I could do. He had a way of pushing without shoving and helping without doing it himself. He believed in the abilities that I did not yet know I had, and he helped me to discover them.

It is no easy task to build confidence and self-esteem in kids. It takes patience and commitment and a lot of time. He gave that to his students and I feel fortunate to have had the experience of being his student. I am reminded of a quote by Dan Coulter who said, "It's an uncommon pleasure to remember someone who believed in you before you were sure you were worth believing in."

I hope we all have teachers we can remember with affection and good memories. As we begin another school year, say a prayer for those people who have made a positive impact on you. It is so true that an inspiring teacher has effects on a child long after they leave their classroom.

to Confession each day for even the slightest perceived offense of God, consider Jesus' merciful love more. Consider how he looks at you with great tenderness and love and wants you to come and receiving him without fear. Why did he come as a baby? To be held by you; to be approached by you. Do not be afraid.

If you feel like you never sin and that God's got you without need for Reconciliation, consider that Jesus said to repent and believe (walk with him your whole life, following the teachings from him passed down through the Church). Read and re-sensitize your conscience, go to Confession before receiving the Eucharist if you are living with mortal sin (full knowledge, free consent of the will, and grave matter), and receive the freedom and healing that you so desperately desire. Be not afraid to tell him the truth and ask for his mercy in Confession. Create a regular habit of confession, say, monthly or as needed because of mortal sin.

The Eucharist is God. God is holy. God is medicine. Tell him in Confession where you need to be healed, receive the merciful love and tender understanding of Jesus, and then approach the Sacrament of holiness and healing, the Eucharist, with confidence in the one to said, "Do this in remembrance of me." What is the best way to receive the Eucharist? With a heart lovingly conformed to Christ.

God bless,
Fr. Mark

Mail Call

Q. In 1st Timothy the 3rd chapter God calls all pastors to have their own wife in order to avoid fornication. This is not aimed at the Catholic Church. However the Catholic Church does have trouble with pedophilia. My question is why doesn't the Catholic Church obey God? If the Catholic Church has a problem with the message, the problem is not with me, but rather with God.

A. Of course your charge is aimed at the Catholic Church. However, you missed your target. Taking bible passages out of context to prove a preconceived bias and/or ignoring actual facts is common practice among some. The Church does not have a problem with the message in Sacred Scripture, with God nor with you. The problem here is lifting verses out of context and in the process missing the message.

This passage in I Timothy refers to the qualifications for a bishop. St. Paul's guidelines for priests (presbyters) can be found in Titus 1: 5-9. This instruction to Titus on the selection of presbyters coincides with I Timothy's on a bishop's qualifications. This letter to Titus was aimed at strengthening his authority St. Paul's apostolic mandate to appoint priests.

Most all Christian denominations, including evangelicals and fundamentalist, have always interpreted these passages in St Paul's letter to mean that a minister of the Gospel cannot be a bigamist or not be divorced and remarried. It is not a command to marry. Remember bigamy was practiced in some places in Paul's time and still is today. If this was a command to marry St. Paul was confused. In I Corinthians 7:7-9 he writes: "Yet I wish that all men were even as I myself am. However, each man has his own gift from God, one in this manner, and another in that. But I say to the unmarried and to widows that it is good for them if they remain even as I. But if they do not have self-control, let them marry; for it is better to marry than to burn with passion."

St. Paul also writes in II Timothy 2:3-4: "Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier in active service entangles himself in the affairs of everyday life, so that he may please the one who enlisted him as a soldier."

Matthew 19:10-12; The disciples asked Jesus, if it is better not to be married? Jesus said to them, "Not all men are able to take in this saying, but only those to whom it is given. For there are men who, from birth, were eunuchs; and there are some who were made so by men; and there are others who have made themselves so for the kingdom of heaven. He who is able to receive this, let him receive it."

Do you suggest all young Protestant ministers, missionaries and evangelists, who have yet to marry, should step down until they marry? Are pastors who have never married or are now widowers no longer valid ministers? If so, your position is out of step with most all segments of Christianity. The actual message in the passage you cite instructs us to be temperate, sensible, dignified, hospitable, gentle and not quarrelsome. This is the message.

Last but not least, the charge that pedophilia is a problem of the Catholic priesthood requires ignoring the facts. In 1950 there were 50,502 diocesan and religious-order priests in the United States. In 1965 there were 58,632, in 1970 the number was 59,192 and today there are 37,302. In the time period from 1950 to 2020, 3.91% of priests were accused of some sort of sex crime, including pedophilia. Only .25% of the 3.91% were found guilty. The prevalence of pedophilia in the general population is not known, but among adult men it is estimated to be around 5%. It is also estimated that 65% are married.

Harming children is the vilest crime a person can commit, deserving the maximum penalty the law will allow. Pointing fingers is not the answer to this problem. The Catholic Church is actively and aggressively working in "Protecting God's Children" & "Right to Life" to protect all children. The Church would welcome your involvement.

"Ultreya" is a Spanish word, derived from the original Latin, meaning Onward! It was commonly used by pilgrims to greet and encourage one another along the way.

This word is now used by the Cursillo community to signify the meeting which is held after a Cursillo experience. It provides continuity by contributing to the maintenance of the Cursillo spirit and by revealing the reality of the living Church.

Even though you may have never experienced a Cursillo weekend, join us for our next Ultreya

Kickball 2023

It was a fun and exciting year for kickball! With all of the rain outs, rescheduling and jockeying around, we finally got the season in. Seven teams total participated, that consisted of over 100 fellow parishioners and friends. Congratulations to the Toe Jammers - 3 peat champions! They had some challenging games along the way, none more than the semi final game with Beebe St., where a running catch with 2 outs and 2 on in the bottom of the 7th preserved the win and avoided a walk off! Congratulations also to the Ballbarians - 3 peat runners up! None try harder than them.

Special thanks to a number of people who made this year possible: Fr. Mark, Fr. Kishore, Msgr. Pat, Preston Treend, Julie Yamarino, Paul Eisen, Margo VanHove, and the Richmond Little League. You guys are awesome!

Team pictures are below. Unfortunately, missing are pictures of the One Kick Wonders, and Thorns and Roses. They were fun teams!
