Thoughts from Fr. Dan

When the late Christopher Lasch wrote his landmark book "The Culture of Narcissism" 30 years ago, many people misunderstood it. A quick reading gave the impression that Lasch was criticizing modern egotism and self-indulgence. But his real point was a lot more troubling. Lasch believed that modern consumer culture is a shell game. The mass media create the illusion that we're, each of us, sovereign individuals; that we create our own values and lifestyles; that our opinions really matter; and that products and corporations exist to benefit our lives because we "deserve" it.

Real faith demands courage; it creates a holy restlessness about our own sins and the suffering and needs of others. The real Christian knows that baptism is a mandate to act, not consume; that our lives have a purpose larger than ourselves; that our choices do matter immensely, but not because we create their meaning; that we actually "deserve" very little on our own merits and that God's love is a free, unearned gift we have a duty to share. The defining qualities of every mature Catholic life are gratitude, not greed; and confidence in Jesus Christ, not cowardice or false compromise with an unbelieving world. Love, as Scripture tells us, casts out fear; but it does much more than that: It replaces fear with strength because—to quote St. Paul—"the love of Christ impels us" (2 Cor 5:14).

If we really believe in Jesus Christ—as St. Paul did—we already have the most important thing we need. In fact, St. Paul's epistles, his missionary zeal and his extraordinary passion for God are testimony to what one person, living with conviction, can accomplish. Jesus Christ redeemed us on the cross. But God used St. Paul to take that good news to the world—as we now must.

How do we do that? We don't need to work in the foreign missions to follow in the footsteps of St. Paul. We can be missionaries right here, in the mundane circumstances God places us. We need to be people of daily prayer and regular worship. We need to show God's patience and love to the persons we meet on an everyday basis—our families, our coworkers and strangers on the street. Furthermore, in this Year of St. Paul, it's especially fitting to constantly deepen our knowledge of the faith by reading, study and adult as well as youth formation.

*God Bless,
Fr. Dan*

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC TRADITIONS EXPLAINED

Question: January 25 is the feast of the Conversion of St. Paul and the end of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. What does one have to do with the other?

Answer: The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity consists of eight days beginning January 18 (the previous date for the feast of the Chair of St. Peter) and ending on January 25, the feast of the Conversion of St. Paul. The celebration was begun by Paul James Wattson, a former Episcopalian priest who eventually became a Catholic priest. The 1964 Vatican II document on ecumenism, "Unitatis Redintegratio," gave a great boost to the octave. The emphasis on both Peter and Paul aptly fits into the rationale of the octave. Peter is seen as the source of unity within the Christian tradition; Paul is highlighted due to his vision of bringing all to Christ. The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is an ideal opportunity to pray for and promote respect, understanding, and, hopefully, eventual unity among Christians.

THANK YOU - Giving Tree Ministry

Some of the star gifts on The Giving Tree are shared with Interfaith Senior Programs. This agency coordinated the delivery through holiday gatherings or mailings of self-sufficiency care packages that included gift cards for pharmacies and grocery stores, postage stamps, calendars, and more to remind individuals living in their own homes that people in their community care about their wellbeing. Some words of gratitude: "The holidays are difficult, at best, with the pain and loneliness. Thank you for lifting my spirits!" and "Thank you so much for caring and sharing. Some of us have no family and Interfaith has been that to me each year."

Interfaith Senior Programs tells us that our "generosity captured the spirit of the holiday season, which was shared with our neighbors who have no one else.... Thank you."

Thelma Walker: Prayer, Food for the Journey.
St. Bruno 9-10:15

Scripture and our faith tradition have given us many examples to assist us in understanding how the way we pray changes during our lifetime. We'll learn from people like Therese of Lisieux and Julian of Norwich along with examples from Joyce Rupp's book, "The Cup of Our Life," the many styles of prayer and how to discern our prayer style.

Good timing with Lent just around the corner. Thelma's Advent talk at St Paul's was beautiful, please mark this prayer talk on your calendar. Thelma Walker is the former Director of the Office for Women, Archdiocese of Milwaukee where she listened to the needs of women, provided programs, and networked with other organizations to provide resources. In addition, she worked with Parish Nurses and the Domestic Violence issue. She has also worked with the Archdiocesan Human Concerns/Respect Life Office organizing Human Concerns Committees and Clusters. Thelma has worked with Catholic Charities, Department on Aging assessing the needs of older adults in parishes and provided resources to implement recommendations.

As Family Minister at St. Alphonsus Parish, Greendale, Thelma provided programs and resources for all types of families. Thelma has over 25 years of experience providing formation and retreats for Parish Councils, committees, and other groups.

For more information, contact Mary Kral, Adult Formation (marykral4@gmail.com, 262-968-2276 x 202).

Silent Preached Retreat - Don't let "silent" scare you!

Please pray about this as a gift for yourself, your spouse or even an adult son/daughter. The Redemptorist Retreat Center is nearby and the beautiful grounds offer ample chances for prayerful reflection and solitude. The opportunity to get away from Friday around 6pm until Sunday at 1pm can be a blessing in your busy life, especially now as you are recovering from Christmas busyness? There are weekends set aside for St. Paul/St. Bruno members but you can go to any retreat. Check the web-site: www.redemptoristretreat.org.

Men of St. Paul/St. Bruno - let's go Feb. 17-19!

Women of St Paul/St Bruno - let's go March 24-26!
