Thoughts from
Fr. Dan

EXAMINE YOUR CONSCIENCE THIS LENT

After the recitation of the Our Father at every Mass, the priest prays to the Lord: "In your mercy keep us free from sin..."

When people pray for freedom, perhaps they pray first for freedom from illness or violence or misfortune; but at each Mass we pray for freedom from sin, because sin is the basic form of slavery. During Lent, we undertake an examination of our lives in the light of God's mercy. We discover again our own sinfulness and taste again the forgiveness won for us by Christ on the cross. To examine ourselves, we search our conscience; to obtain forgiveness, we confess our sins and receive absolution.

What is conscience? For some, it seems to be another name for moral autonomy, a little box inside that carries our willful convictions about right and wrong. For Catholics, conscience is an exercise in judgment, and right judgment on our part reflects God's judgments about right and wrong. Since we are made in God's image and likeness, if we listen carefully to how our nature itself basically orients us, our actions will conform to God's will. What gets in the way between our actions and God's will is our own sinfulness, our own willfulness. Conscience is not a matter of will; it's a work of well-ordered reason.

To free us from personal sin, the Lord has given his Church the gift of the sacrament of Penance or Reconciliation. During Lent, Catholics are urged to confess their sins and receive absolution. The priest in the confessional is an active minister of God's infinite mercy. A good confessor is also a frequent penitent, knowing personally both the reality of sin and the limitless, renovating power of God's love, which constantly restores life. God uses the confessor to restore friendship broken by sin. Only as new creatures, freed from sin's slavery, can we recognize and celebrate the Lord's resurrection from the dead.

Freedom is a precious gift. Sometimes we destroy it ourselves, by our sinfulness; sometimes it's taken from us, both legally and illegally. During Lent, we read Exodus, the second book of Moses, the story of God's delivering the Israelites from slavery in Egypt by giving them public and social freedom in a land of his choosing. We read this story in the light of our own faith in Christ's resurrection, his breaking the shackles of our sinfulness so that He and we can live freely and in perfect conformity with His Father's will.

We might start our personal examination of conscience this Lent by asking how we have, individually and as a people, strayed and wondered from Christ and His teachings. With a well-formed and well-examined conscience, use Lent to confess your sins and experience anew the freedom of the sons and daughters of God.

God Bless! Fr. Dan

BIRTHDAY WISHES

Happy Birthday to Vincent Dable on Apr. 4th and Tom Peltier on Apr. 6.

Best Wishes to them and all who are celebrating this week!!

TO GET TO KNOW JESUS

Monday, Day 29 (Luke 24:13-35) Jesus known in word and bread: Do your eyes sometimes prevent you from recognizing Him just like the apostles in this Gospel account? Day 30 (Matthew 28:16-20) Jesus calls YOU. We all need to challenge ourselves to take that next step in our faith life.

For the rest of this week, study this weekend's Old and New Testament readings for Palm Sunday. Isaiah 50:4-7 (The Lord God is my help), Philippians 2:6-22 (He humbled Himself). Studying it in the week ahead will allow you to hear it at a deeper level when it is proclaimed at mass.

How was the 1% Challenge for you? Any surprises? Getting to know Jesus, really know Him, is a gift and a challenge! You're invited to share your experience, it would be interesting to hear what others found on this Lenten journey of prayer and scripture (email marykral4@gmail.com or call parish office).

GOOD FRIDAY: Walk the Labyrinth - A Path of Prayer

In walking a labyrinth we are joining Christians who have prayed over hundreds of years in this walking tradition. There are three stages of the walk: LETTING GO of the things that block community with God. As we shed thoughts and emotions and open our concerns to God, our mind can become quiet. The CENTER is a place of prayer and meditation. A time to just be in the presence of God. UNION occurs on the journey back out into the community; it is joining with God. Each time we walk the labyrinth, we become more empowered to find and do the work God is calling us to.

You can participate in this meditative prayer in the St. Paul Gym on Good Friday before and after the 1pm Good Friday service. You are invited to walk the labyrinth from 11am - 12:45pm and then after the service until 4pm.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? CATHOLIC TRADITIONS EXPLAINED

Question: Lent always helps me renew my relationship with God. What can I do to achieve that the rest of the year?

Answer: The obvious answer may seem to be to do whatever you do during Lent all year. But part of the power of Lent is that we focus as a community on renewing our faith and preparing for Easter. Our Lenten practices have a purpose and a goal. Therein lies the secret. When we focus our efforts on one virtue, or try to change one bad habit, or seek to deepen our understanding of one aspect of faith, we focus our efforts and give our full attention to what we are trying to accomplish. We tend to be more successful achieving our goals. More importantly, it has a ripple effect in our lives: one thing changes or is added to the spiritual mix of our lives and many aspects are changed. Think of it in terms of exercise. We walk, lift weights, bend and stretch to attain the maximum benefit from what we do. In addition, to keep those benefits, we eat healthful food and get enough vitamins and rest. Spirituality requires the same kind of attention: we pray, fast, read the Bible, receive sacraments, and do charitable work to maximize the benefits of practicing faith. Keeping Lent year-round keeps us in spiritual shape!
