PRAY WITH BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

Mothers see things in their children that others often miss. The Blessed Virgin Mary sees Jesus from a perspective that is unique. Praying with Mary, asking her companionship as we pray, opens up knowledge of Jesus we can have only through her and with her. She knows Jesus profoundly not only as her savior but also as her Son. "She has more insight than anyone into the profound intentions of Jesus." This intuition of Pope John Paul II is behind his invitation that we look at Jesus, contemplate the mysteries of his life, death and resurrection, while attending "Mary's school."

What does one learn while at "Mary's school," praying the Rosary? What does she teach us? The genius of the Rosary is that it brings us to the heart of the Gospel. In the grotto near the Basilica of the Annunciation at Nazareth, an inscription reads: "The Word was made flesh in this place." The Son of God became incarnate in a particular spot; the uncontainable one was contained in Mary's womb. The particularity which marks human life becomes the object of contemplation in saying the Rosary. In what Pope Paul VI called the "quiet rhythm" and "lingering pace" of the Rosary, we put ourselves into the fundamental mystery of Christianity: God was made man so that we could live in God. Mary's womb is the place where the Word of God was made flesh; Mary's mouth the place where that perfect "yes" that changed our relationship to God was spoken.

If we have faith and if we are willing to compose our mind and remain quiet for a little while, the Rosary becomes our entrance into the person and life of Christ and his mother. She can bring us very close to her Son by forcing us to move beyond words and ideas to the reality they are meant to convey. She can "make us pray," despite our own readiness to be distracted and all the pressures of lives plagued by a surfeit of information and entertainment designed to take our time and dissipate our attention.

Fifty times, in praying five decades of the Rosary each day, we ask the Blessed Virgin Mary to be with us "now and at the hour of our death." Contemplating our death puts our lives in perspective. Contemplating with Mary the joyful, the sorrowful, the glorious and now the luminous mysteries of Jesus' life, we gradually sort out what is essential to our own. In the end, we bring into eternity only our relationships. Relationships grow with familiarity, and praying the Rosary makes us familiar with the various dimensions of Christ's life. As Pope Paul VI wrote, "The Rosary is a compendium of the whole Gospel."

In the Gospel, Mary is there at the beginning of Jesus' life, as every mother is present at her child's birth; she is there standing at the foot of the cross at the end of Jesus' life; and she is there with the apostles on Pentecost, when Jesus sends the Holy Spirit at the birth of the Church, which is her Son's body in space and time until he returns in glory. The sense that Mary protects our lives here, on our way to eternity, is summed up in a prayer from the second century, the earliest prayer to Mary that has come down to us: "We fly to thy protection, O Holy Mother of God. Despise not our petitions in our necessities, but deliver us always from all dangers, O glorious and blessed Virgin." Fr. Dan

Let us love God, my brothers, let us love God. But let it be with the strength of our arms and the sweat of our brow. --St. Vincent de Paul

FOR THE KIDS

Sharing the Gospel

Your Father says, "Will you work eight hours in my garden for one hundred dollars?" You answer, "Yes." You work hard for seven hours. Then your Father says to two other people, "Will you work one hour in my garden for one hundred dollars?" You shout angrily, "Father, you are not fair." He says, "You agreed to work eight hours for one hundred dollars. That is fair."

Prayer

When I am first or when I am last, thanks for giving me what I need, Father.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? CATHOLIC TRADITIONS EXPLAINED

Question: Who is St. Jerome and why is he so significant that we honored him with a feast on September 30?

Answer: St. Jerome (345-420) was considered the greatest biblical scholar of his day, conversant with Latin, Greek, and Hebrew. He set about translating the books of the Bible from their original languages into Latin.

Much of Jerome's correspondence has survived and gives us a powerful glimpse into the kind of person that he was, as well as the time in which he lived. Jerome eventually became Pope Damasus' (366-384) personal secretary. In the West, Latin was overtaking Greek as the language of the common people. The pope desired a translation of the Bible that would be accurately translated from the original languages into the language and idiom of the people. Previous Latin translations existed, but they were poor in quality.

Jerome set about this task and spent the rest of his life meticulously translating. He is credited with the translation of the Bible known as the Vulgate, a Latin translation intended to address the needs of the common people. That translation became the standard and the only one used by Catholics until modern times. Catholics did not actively engage in a similar process until 1943, when Pius XII allowed Catholic scholars once again to go back to the original languages and translate an accurate and meticulous version of the Bible. We carry on that tradition to this very day.

Keeping the Faith

Mission and Joy: that could almost be a song...

P - Pray

R - Read Scripture

E - Eucharist - receive the Eucharist regularly

P - Participate in parish life

A - Ask for Forgiveness; go to Reconciliation

R - Reach out to the Least of our brothers and sisters

e - Evangelize - share the love of Jesus with those around you!

Last weekend I was blessed beyond belief to be on retreat with the Pastoral Council and Pastoral Staff. We were talking about living and becoming the mission of the Church. That was not a typo on my part. We are called to BECOME the mission - to have the mission of the Church etched onto our hearts. In fact, we are baptized and confirmed into the mission of the Church. This is the call of every disciple - to become the mission of the Church.

The best part of being grafted into, taken and swept up in the mission; to have it become a part of who you are, is that it is encounter with JOY. And this joy is not like any other kind of joy we can describe. This is the joy that flows from the Trinity. We worship a God that is all about life and life ABUNDANTLY! Think about the birth or adoption of your children - was there another word to describe all that was happening? And this joy is from this tiny, finite being. And it changed your world. What would happen if we let ourselves be touched by the transcendent, omnipotent, infinite, ETERNAL God who IS LOVE?

This year, if you REALLY want your children to grow in faith... take opportunities to grow in faith yourself. We try to teach the love of God here. And you love your children more than I do (not that you need me to tell you this). There is nobody more appropriate to teach your child about this God who loved us into being than the people who loved him or her into being. But you cannot give what you do not have. So dive into being disciple, to discovering the LOVE that first loved us so much He rather die than be without us. Become the mission of the Church.

There is something extraordinarily powerful about women supporting and building each other up. I wish I could give it words – but there are times words fail. Women of Christ is an opportunity for us as women to build up and support each other in a manner only women can. And this overflows into your life in amazing ways. It is an encounter with the God who'd rather die than live without us. It may seem like you can't do it because of life being so busy, but I would say this is something we can't not do BECAUSE our lives are so busy. It is a time to work on your relationship with God. Mark your calendars for November 4th. In the next couple of weeks we will have a sign-up genius. If you don't come with us, that is ok. But please make sure you do something... and husbands and dads – make sure you are encouraging your wife. Remember, moms often take care of everyone else before they take care of themselves. They need to be reminded to take care of themselves.

Art & Prayer, Saturday—Oct. 7th

Just as the women of Bethany supported each other, let us gather together to "encourage one another and build one another up" (1 Thess 5:11).

Join us, ladies (ages 12+), Saturday, 10/7, 9-11am at St. Bruno's gym. We will be talking about prayer, creating two pieces of framed alcohol ink art, and sharing fellowship, food, and of course prayer, cost is $10.

This opportunity is limited to 25 participants. Please see the parish website for more information and samples of finished artwork as well as the SignUpGenius link to register.

"Do not fear nor be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you" (Joshua 1:9) which means, in this case, you do NOT have to be an artist to sign up! It's all in letting the paint work according to its way instead of trying to be in control (sounds like faith, doesn't it?)

REMEMBER, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thy intercession was left unaided. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me. Amen.
