GOD'S LOVE FOUND IN STORIES

As every parent and teacher knows, some of the best learning never takes place in a classroom. We learn most deeply from the example of others and from personal experience. But we're also shaped by the stories that touch our hearts and fire our imaginations.

No one understood this better than the great British Catholic scholar, J.R.R. Tolkien. In writing the "Lord of the Rings" trilogy, Tolkien single-handedly created the modern fantasy universe. Millions of young people have grown up reading about the elves, hobbits, orcs and wraiths of Middle Earth. But for all its impossible creatures, the trilogy is also profoundly "true" in its portrait of good and evil, sin and virtue, and the importance of human heroism in defeating wickedness.

As a committed Catholic, Tolkien wove the Christian story into the fabric of Middle Earth. It's no accident that Frodo and Sam finally destroy the power of Sauron, the Dark Lord, on a date that just happens to be March 25 — the great feast of the Annunciation on the Church calendar; the day God took on human flesh. Tolkien did that deliberately. In fact, the "Lord of the Rings" is filled with scores of similar Christian clues and metaphors.

Tolkien's Anglican friend and fellow scholar, C.S. Lewis, did the same. One of the greatest Christian apologists of the 20th century, Lewis is remembered for classics like "Mere Christianity," "The Abolition of Man," "Surprised by Joy," "The Screwtape Letters," "The Problem of Pain" and "The Great Divorce." But maybe his best work was his storytelling for young people.

In writing his seven-book "Chronicles of Narnia," Lewis created a fantastic saga of dwarves, witches, trolls and centaurs, much like Tolkien. And again like Tolkien, Lewis' Great Lion — Aslan — is unmistakably a figure of Jesus Christ. As for Aslan's father, the Emperor Across the Sea: Well, it doesn't take a lot of effort to infer Who that might be.

Over the years, I've known dozens of people who've gone back to the Narnia tales again and again to enjoy them as adults. Even today, half a century after Lewis published the last of the Chronicles, they remain bestsellers. The reason is simple. The Chronicles remind us that beauty, truth and goodness really do exist; that what we choose in life matters; that suffering has meaning; that sacrifice for the right things makes a difference; that heaven is real; and that God, our reason for joy and hope, loves us eternally.

It's no accident then that many filmmakers have tried to bring these stories to the screen. Until now, all have failed. Part of the problem has been technical: before computers, the means for creating believable fantasy worlds didn't exist. But the other, less obvious, problem has been content. What makes the Chronicles so powerful — their Christian worldview — is also what makes some people in an aggressively secular age very uneasy. What we read, watch and listen to can change us. And the Chronicles have changed the hearts of a great many people — in the right direction.

In making his "Lord of the Rings" movies, director Peter Jackson largely succeeded in adapting Tolkien for a general audience without destroying the Christian moral heart of the saga. Now is a great time to read the Chronicles if you haven't, and reread them if you did as a child. We're shaped by the stories that touch our hearts and fire our imaginations. And Lewis, like Tolkien, wrote to shape us with the story of God's love.

ST PAUL SCHOOL NEWS

www.stpaulgenesee.net
262-968-3175

Get connected to our POWER!

Dear St. Paul Parish Community,

As the years go by and with every challenging situation and life hurdle that you may encounter, I hope that you remember and stay true to our school mission statement: "St. Paul Catholic School of the Milwaukee Archdiocese is a faith community dedicated to the education of God's children. We are committed to helping all of our students experience the POWER: Prayer, Outreach, Worship, Education, and Relationships!" I ask that you maintain an optimistic outlook on life and above all, be the best person that you can be. You will always be a Cyclone and as such I ask that you uphold the core values of all Cyclones: Integrity, empathy, gratitude, and perseverance. Continue to do the right thing, even when no one is watching. Be kind and strive to understand other peoples' perspectives. It is difficult to be grateful if you feel people owe you. For this reason, never develop a sense of entitlement. Once you reach the mountain's summit, remain humble and show your gratitude to people that rekindled your desire to persevere when you felt defeated.

It is my hope that many years from now, the mere mention of St. Paul Catholic School, or a second reading of these words, will cause you to reminisce on old friendships, conjure many fond memories, and help bring a smile to your face. Know that you positively impacted the life of all St. Paul Catholic School employees, especially mine.

Blessings,

Mrs. Gunderson

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Question: Couldn't Jesus have done more good if he stayed on earth, rather than ascended into heaven?

Answer: This is an interesting question! During his earthly life, Jesus gave sight to the blind, healed paralytics, drove out demons, and fed thousands with only a few loaves of bread. Imagine what he could have done if he'd never ascended into heaven! Imagine what our world could be! It's an interesting thought to consider, especially as the world faces challenges that only seem to deepen and expand. Yet at the Last Supper, Jesus says, "It is better for you if I go." Why? His response must have seemed strange to the Apostles at the time. In his place, Jesus says, he will send the Paraclete, the Comforter, the Advocate. He promises to send the Holy Spirit.

Jesus' departure allows the Apostles to become the leaders he has formed them to be. Jesus is no longer situated in only one geographical location, and his Church will never be a political kingdom. Soon after the Ascension, we celebrate Pentecost - the descent of the Holy Spirit and the radical empowerment of the followers of Jesus. We share in that empowerment and in that mission. Jesus is present in the sacraments, and he is present in us. Through our faith, hope, and love, we are called to be the good he does here on earth!

Sharing the Gospel with Children

After Jesus was taken into heaven, the apostles spent time in church praising God. Every time something good happens to you or your family, remember to give thanks to God. You do not have to be at church to praise God. You can praise God at home, in the park, or in a store. You can thank God wherever you happen to be. Good things happen to you because God loves you very much.

Prayer

Lord, help me praise you even when I am sad.

Grief Support Sessions

Are you experiencing feelings of sadness and sorrow due to the loss of a loved one or do you know someone who is grieving? Grieving is very hard work, and time alone will not heal your grief. St. Bruno's Circle of Life will host a series of grief support sessions on Tuesdays beginning June 4 through July 29, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

These sessions will help with understanding the rhythms of the grieving process. Gathering with others who are dealing with the emotions of loss may be the first step needed to move toward healing. Whether you have had a loved one die recently or a while ago, you are welcome and encouraged to attend.

There is more information on the parish website, the kiosk in the Gathering Place or call Peggy Knepprath, 262-424-4567 or Sandy Mayernick, 262-968-4422.
