Weekly Message

“Love contains all vocations”

Participation in the Church is based on baptism, when God gives us new life in Christ, and on faith, when God gives us the grace to see and assent to a vision of things beyond the purely visible. Those who share a common baptism and who profess the same faith participate in the one Church.

Some lay people have what theologians are now calling “a vocation within a vocation,” a calling to ecclesial ministry within their basic baptismal calling to be servants of the world. For many years, lay people have served the Church and her people as catechists, liturgists, directors of charities and good works, administrators, principals and teachers in Catholic schools. Some of these activities are full-time and some part-time, some are salaried positions and some are done by volunteers. While exercised always in cooperation with ordained priests, “the ministries, the offices and roles of the lay faithful find their foundation in the sacraments of baptism and confirmation and, for a good many of them, in the sacrament of matrimony.” (Christifideles laici, 23)

Those lay men and women involved with ministry, whether formally instituted or in other fashions, build up the Church and enrich the lives of all of us. Ministry in the Catholic Church is far more diverse now, and it is difficult to imagine what the Church’s life would be without lay ministers. Participation in ministering to people is complemented by the many liturgical ministries that now enrich our worship of God.

St. Therese of the Child Jesus, the Little Flower, whose feast is celebrated on Oct. 1, knew what is at the heart of all participation in the Church: love. She had a heart which desired to do everything for God. This cloistered Carmelite nun wanted to teach, to be an apostle, a priest, a martyr and, especially, to be a missionary from the dawn of creation until the end of time. She laughed at herself for such desires, for she fully accepted St. Paul’s reminder to the Christians at Corinth that God has determined different roles and offices in the Church. The Church is made up of many parts, and one part cannot say to another, “I have no need of you.” (see 1 Cor 12, 21). The abundance of God’s love filling her heart made her want to do everything possible to return that love. God made known to her how she could truly do everything if her vocation was to be love in the heart of the Church. “Love contains all vocations,” wrote St. Therese. “Love is everything. It is love alone that enables the Church’s members and ministers to act.” We must continue that same spirit of St. Therese as our ministries and committees start up again this fall.

God Bless, Fr. Dan

Low Gluten Host Available for those who need it.

We have available a low gluten host (contains less than 0.002% gluten <20ppm) which can be attained in the sacristy. There are pyx (small containers) available in the sacristy if the person does not have their own.

- The person needing the host should go to the sacristy and request a low gluten host.
- The pyx can be placed on the altar where it will be consecrated.
- The priest will bring the pyx with him during communion where the person needing the low gluten host will receive it. (It would be good to introduce yourself to the priest before Mass and remind him when you get to him in the communion line.)
- The pyx will be given to the communicant closed.
- The communicant can then step to the side, open the pyx, and consume the host.
- After mass the pyx can be returned to the sacristy.

Sharing the Gospel With Kids

Jesus cured 10 men who had bleeding sores all over their skin. As they walked away, they noticed that they were cured. Their sores were gone and their skin was smooth. Nine of them ran to show their families and friends. They were happy. Only one man went back to thank Jesus for curing them. God loves you. Thank him for your family and friends. Thank him for healing you and giving you everything you need.

Prayer: Lord, please remind me to say, "Thank you."

WHY DO WE DO THAT?-CATHOLIC TRADITION EXPLAINED

Gratitude

Question: How can I practice gratitude in my everyday life?

Answer: God has given each of us many blessings. Fostering an "attitude of gratitude" might be easier than you think. Simple, concrete practices can help us to be more thankful more often. Incorporate it into your dinner with your spouse, or as you tuck the kids into bed at night. "What are three things you're thankful for today?" Make a habit of writing one note a week to someone special in your life, thanking them for how they've impacted you. This is also a good practice in the workplace. Consider opening your weekly meetings with a quick round of gratitude sharing. "I'm grateful John helped me with that last-minute change to my presentation last week. I wouldn't have finished it in time for the meeting without him."

Another way is to designate a few minutes to thank God. This could be the first bit of your daily prayer time or after you receive communion on Sundays. You can also integrate it into your daily routine. How about while brushing your teeth? There's probably nothing so important it can't wait two minutes. Brush your teeth, quiet your mind, and thank God from your heart for His blessings throughout the day. Get creative! Any moment is an opportunity to praise and thank God.
