Weekly Message

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Who are the little ones? They are the many and varied faces of people who see hope in Jesus' message about the Kingdom of God. They have come to believe that there is a different world to be had: a place where everyone has a home, all have an equal opportunity to share in God's bountiful gifts and blessings, where justice reigns, truth presides, and peace fills hearts. The little ones are those who may have left their former views behind, perhaps even their former lives to follow Jesus and believe in the Beatitudes as God's world vision. They are the poor, the marginalized, the women and men at the well, the Zacchaeus' looking for Jesus from a tree, the blind who want to see, and the lame who want to walk. They are the lepers who have been told that they are unclean, and the ones who have learned that suffering and death are nothing to fear. These are all of the little ones. Jesus gathers and protects them as a shepherd guards his sheep. Whoever causes one of these little ones to sin deserves the greatest wrath. Be more concerned about what people are doing than where they came from. ©LPi

GENEROUS OUTREACH CLOTHING SHARE THANK YOU....to

everyone who blessed us with HUGE generous donations and making our mission of "helping others" a HUGE success! A heartfelt thank you to the maintenance men, the ladies who gave of their time during the Share and to parish members RoseMary Schendel, Curtis Groninger, Cody Horlacher, Shirley Denk, Bob Kral, Judy Reichow, and Jeff and Diane Miller and non-parish members Jessica Driscoll, Sue Groh and Michelle Latzel for the amazing help packing up remaining items, loading vehicles and delivering remaining items to either Goodwill or St. Vincent's. Van loads also went to Casa Maria via Nancy Reinbold and Heavenly Babies via Jennifer Aldrich. WE ARE THANKFUL TO BE SO BLESSED!!

A woman from Milwaukee... "THANK YOU SO MUCH for bringing back the 2021 St. Paul's Clothing Share. This event is so appreciated and the volunteers work very hard to sort/set it all up for men, women, and children. They make it very presentable for everyone to get what they could use. The pandemic [interrupted]... Times are tough and challenging BUT THE NEED IS ALWAYS THERE."

Our New Pastoral Council received a blessing at Mass today. Please pray for them as they commit to continuing the work of God in our Parish. Thank you to all the members for your time and talents.

Welcome to St. Paul Catholic Church! We are happy to have you join us at Mass. If you are visiting, looking for a new parish or just need more information about the Catholic faith, simply visit our website at www.stpaulgenesee.net, call us at 262-968-3865 or email at office@stpaulgenesee.net

PROPHETS

In the first reading, Moses says: Would that all the people of the LORD were prophets! When you were baptized and anointed with the chrism of salvation, these words were spoken: "As Christ was anointed Priest, Prophet, and King, so may you live always as members of His body, sharing everlasting life." You've been given new birth by water and the Holy Spirit. Call on the power of the Holy Spirit when you need to be a prophet. Maybe it's when your kids are whining to be able to go with friends to an event that does not match your family values. Perhaps you need to be a prophet when someone at work is talking about someone behind their back. Be a prophet when you invite your neighbor who's been away awhile to come back to mass with you. Maybe you just need to remind someone that this divisive world is still full of truth and beauty and goodness.

Coming together to share your faith with others in a time when there is so much discord is a wonderful place to find unity, to hear what others are saying, to share what you're wondering about, to find the Truth together. We can be prophets to one another, building one another up. Try out one of the small groups or start your own! Alpha starts October 4 on line. One of the Alpha groups last year met throughout the fall and into the Easter season – strangers came together, became friends and support for one another through a tough year. What a blessing. Go to the website to find more details. May you live always as members of His body, sharing everlasting life.

Men's Group Fall Semester

Wednesday Mornings at 6:00am in the Cafeteria

Meets every week until Dec 22. All are welcome.

Email Larry, Larsgeisler@live.com if you are interested in attending and need more information.

ALPHA is coming, Monday nights 8pm on Zoom, beginning October 4. Instead of wringing your hands about the state of things, consider spending 45 minutes each week sharing faith with others! See the website for more details.

Our Catholic Faith

Please invite someone who is looking for a church home to join the Catholic faith, sessions begin in October and meet until the Easter-season. We also welcome people who would like to brush up on some of our Catholic faith or would like to be Confirmed. See the topics on the schedule on the parish website (in the RCIA section in the Faith Formation tab). If you would like to attend, please let our team leaders, Beth and Peter McFadzen (bpmc90@wi.rr.com) know so they can send you the reading materials ahead of time or contact Mary Kral in the parish office. The sessions run from 10-11:30am in the Family Room at St. Paul. Mary Kral mkral@stpaulgenesee.net

Faith Formation

Lately the need for being a more sacrificial Christian has captivated my heart. And when I think about how I want to go about it, I immediately begin a to-do list. The to-do list is filled with good intentions and desires, yet, they are unfocused. They are a scattering of things I want to do but lack a way to do them (knowing how to get involved, afraid of becoming too inundated with activities, lack of focus on any one thing to begin, and whatnot). Then I think about the invisible list that I have generated in my head and in my heart and the one thing I seem to fail to realize is that the first place I need to become sacrificial as a Christian is not in what I do, it's in prayer. It is in prayer that I will encounter the greatest depth of being. It is in prayer that I encounter the One who gives desires to our hearts, purpose to our lives and reveals what true sacrifice looks like.

Prayer is also where we find our truest sense of self. We are able to recognize ourselves before the God, who fashioned us and formed us; creating us and delighting in us. He created us and then chose to retire the mold for each of us, knowing that we were to be a-one-of-a-kind. And, longing for us, He allows us to choose Him. God desires us, He who created us, desires you and I to come to know Him. And by looking to Him, we begin to realize just how much we are worth... how much we are loved.

When we know our worth, you and I, and we live from this understanding, our hearts burn and yearn for others. Sacrifice becomes our joy, and we live from a reality that points others to heaven.

So, how are you praying? It's not enough to have the running, pray as you go prayers alone. Those are good, but you need more. You need to lay your heart before the Lord and allow Him to show you just how much He loves you and is willing to die for you.

You need that... I know because I know just how much I need that. And, the thing is, God wants nothing more than for us to come to Him so He can do just THAT! And when we live from this reality, we bring God into the world... a world that is in desperate need of His love.

So... what are you waiting for?

If you are interested in knowing more about how to pray, please contact Karen in the parish office.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

This past week we marked the 20th anniversary of 9/11, a day that transformed our lives as Americans. We have come to accept the consequences of that terrorist attack on the World Trade Center in New York, the Pentagon, and the crashed plane many predicted was headed to the Capitol. Many of us lived our lives seemingly invulnerable to the dangers of the world and forces that might seek to destroy our way of life. But all our naivete changed when we watched on our television screens the planes crashing into the two towers. It was such a significant moment that many of us remember exactly where we were when the attack happened. I was preparing to go to a meeting for priests when my music director shouted out, "Bishop you've got to see this!" We huddled around a small television screen gasping in disbelief.

There were many acts of heroism amid the death and destruction that was on display for millions to see. First responders, fire and police personnel boldly put their lives on the line, and some would never see their families again. We were a country under attack. What seemed to be only descriptions of war in our history books and novels became a reality. It was happening to us here, in our very homeland.

After the initial shock, our lives were immediately adjusted to counter the threat. We do things today that we take for granted, which were a direct result of 9/11. Traveling in airports we now go through security checks, family and visitors cannot accompany us to the gate, we remove our shoes, belts and any metal objects, our bodies are scanned. A new governmental agency was established called Homeland Security to follow potential terrorist threats and investigate connections of suspicious groups to avoid possible future attacks. We lived for weeks holding our breath wondering when and where the next attack would occur.

I was born after World War II, but my parents remember vividly Pearl Harbor and the sneak attack that led to World War II. "A date that will live in infamy" a famous quote associated with the remarks of President Franklin Roosevelt's to Congress and the country. I only lived "Pearl Harbor," in the memories of that experience shared by my parents and their friends. It was hard for me to imagine what my parents felt, that is until 9/11.

I love our country and feel privileged that I was born in a nation that values freedom. I am of a mind that we must never forget, and encourage our young people to remember the cost paid in lives to defend our country. They should also remember that there are those who seek to undermine our democracy through ideologies that are promoting division within, and outside of our country. We must challenge ourselves and ask the question that many of our bravest have asked when confronted with the challenges they faced -- what price are we willing to pay to protect our freedoms to enjoy the life provided for us by our forefathers and ancestors and a resolve to pass on to our children a country that stands for freedom.

Life can change in an instant, and 9/11 reminds us of that fact. But what is an eternal constant is our "faith." This being the year of St. Joseph, we remember that he is the patron of a "happy death." A "happy death" is not diminishing the great loss and pain that occurs when one dies, instead we realize that our future is to be with God and a happy death is when we are prepared to meet our Lord and Savior. Through daily prayer, attendance at Mass and reconciliation we have God as our priority. I pray that there will not be another 9/11 in our future as a nation, but whatever occurs I ask St. Joseph that I and we be ready to meet the Lord, as we pledge to live following His command to LOVE ONE ANOTHER.
