Weekly Message

Of all Jesus' miracles, the most unsettling might be when he made a dead person alive. We know of three times when he did so: a girl, a young man, and Lazarus. The miracle teaches us he has the power of life and death. He anticipates his resurrection. Sin hurts us. Some sin kills us, spiritually. The three miracles reveal to us that no matter our circumstances, Jesus can give life to us.

The three miracles are instructive of the three ways we feel dead. The little dead girl symbolizes sin before it has time to mature. She's in bed and, once alive, gets right back to her life. The young man is lying in his casket in a funeral procession. This is sin allowed to fester, to grow and become somewhat normalized. Once raised, he has a short walk back home. Lazarus, a full-grown dead man, lies wrapped in burial bands in the tomb. Once he is raised, much needs to be done. He'll need to remove those bands, find new clothes, and travel all the way back home. That is sin allowed to go all the way, unchecked for months or years. It's the most spectacular of the three and reveals Jesus' glory more than the others.

What hope that should give us, for us and those whom we love! Jesus knows our sin hurts us and can even kill us spiritually. No matter the extent of the damage, he is always ready for the miracle of making the dead fully alive. — Father John Muir ©LPI

Building The Domestic Church—Lenten Series Stations of the Cross

Since the earliest centuries of the Church, Christians have made pilgrimages to Jerusalem in order to retrace the steps of Jesus during his suffering and death. Around the fifteenth century, Christians began the practice of prayerfully meditating on the Passion of Christ by reproducing that pilgrimage in miniature in what eventually became known as the Stations of the Cross.

Today, there are fourteen stations, each of which represents an event during Christ's Passion. Besides the traditional Stations, Pope John Paul II introduced a form of the Stations more closely linked to events recorded in the Scriptures; this form of the Stations is known as the Scriptural Stations of the Cross.

Tips for Stations with Children

- 1. Friday Stations of the Cross has been held alternating weeks at St. Bruno & St. Paul during Lent.
- 2. Pray the Stations as a family at your parish. Both parishes have the Stations around the perimeter of the inside of the church.
- 3. Pray the Stations at home. Praying the Stations of the Cross at home offers flexibility and convenience for families with young children. If you go this route, try to round up an illustrated guide or artworks to represent the stations. You can either present each artwork on your prayer table as you pray that Station, or you can post the artworks around your home to make your very own Way of the Cross.

I hope you share this meaningful devotion with your children.

HOLY MOMENTS

Thanks for sharing, Sue: "Holy Moments is a light, quick, easy read. I finished it in one day. [Matthew Kelly] is such a good writer! It has really shifted my thinking from looking for God Moments (passive) to CREATING them (active)."

A friend went to a women's conference recently and came back with a pack of different Scripture verses on colored cards. She offered them to share with various small groups - HOLY MOMENT #1. Guests have been invited to pick one, intentionally or at random, to take home and meditate upon. One guest chose hers at random and emphatically told the group it was perfect for her circumstances right now. HOLY MOMENT #2.

~Mary Kral: Shared Director of Adult Formation & Human Concerns

When your life is filled with the desire to see the holiness in everyday life, something magical happens: Ordinary life becomes extraordinary, and the very process of life begins to nourish your soul.

Human Concerns

RICE BOWLS

Rony, a farmer in Latin America, participated in a Catholic Relief Services project, which helped him repair an old reservoir and install a low-cost irrigation system with pipes and hoses that uses very little water to grow his crops. He also learned to let the harvest residue rot—instead of burning the land—because the residue becomes the soil's fertilizer. Thanks to the watering system and his new skills, Rony can harvest his crops even if it doesn't rain. His produce and income are now enough to feed his family and help people in his community. "I have learned a lot about how to take care of, value and protect the natural resources that the Lord has given us, such as water," he says. "That's the best way to guarantee the lives of our families and the animals." There are still Rice Bowls available, pick one up and return it by Palm Sunday. Your contributions to the Rice Bowl program help people like Rony.

ANNUNCIATION

On her bed of doubt in wrinkled night garment, She sat, glancing with fear at the golden shaft of streaming light, pondering perhaps, "Was this but a sequel to a dream?" This light too bright for disbelief, yet its silence eased not her trembling. Somehow she murmured a "YES" And with that the light's love and life pierced her womb.

The room remained the same – rug still needed smoothing, – jug and paten awaited using. Now all was different In a maiden's soft but firm "FIAT."

WORD OF LIFE

"There is an everyday heroism, made up of gestures of sharing, big or small, which build up an authentic culture of life... Part of this daily heroism is also the silent but effective and eloquent witness of all those 'brave mothers who devote themselves to their own family without reserve, who suffer in giving birth to their children and who are ready to make any effort, to face any sacrifice, in order to pass on to them the best of themselves' ... We thank you, heroic mothers, for your invincible love! We thank you for your intrepid trust in God and in his love. We thank you for the sacrifice of your life" (The Gospel of Life 86).
