Where Has All the Beauty Gone?

Having reached the Passiontide (Fifth Sunday of Lent marking the last two weeks of the season) we are met with new veiling of all the beautiful statues, icons and crucifixes we love at St. Augustine. But why? While “new” to our parish, the Church has long recommended this practice to heighten our senses and build within us a longing for Easter Sunday. The unveiling before the Easter Vigil is a great reminder of our own life on earth... We live in a “veiled” world, in exile from our true home where one day we will see the beauty of everything in our lives!

PSTTT! Special Lenten Project “Unveiled”

With a grateful heart, cheerful smile and surprise two-week deadline, a parishioner from St. Patrick Parish generously volunteered 35+ hours designing and sewing custom veils for St. Augustine Parish: six statues, three icons, large sanctuary crucifixion scene, and Father’s altar crucifix... WOW! What a gift to all of us, and a true labor of love! Special thanks also to parishioners Wyatt Berg (machining special parts), Amy Shook (labeling each veil), and Malia Craven (project coordinator.)

The Organ Music in Today's Liturgy

As you will recall, registration is the process of combining selected organ pipes to create a composite timbre. Physics is involved in this process. Every pipe has a fundamental, which is the frequency of the actual note it produces. The strength of the fundamental can be manipulated by selecting other pipes that will emphasize its overtones. Adding 4' and 2' pipes to an 8' pipe (see the March 3 bulletin) will make the composite timbre “brighter,” a subjective term for sure, but one that acknowledges that the overtones are now stronger than fundamental. Other pipes that add “brilliance” and “color” are called mixtures and mutations, respectively. More on that next week! If you would like to know more, please ask Joseph Schubert, the organist.

Eternal rest grant unto him O Lord and let perpetual light shine upon him.
May he rest in peace. Amen.

Please pray for the repose of the soul of Tony Maucione, longtime St. Augustine parishioner, whose Mass of Christian Burial was held this past week. We ask that you keep his wife, Janet, his children, and the entire family in your prayers.

Please pray for the repose of the soul of Phil Gutzwiler, St. Augustine parishioner, whose Mass of Christian Burial was held this past week. We ask that you keep his wife, Darlene, his children, and grandchildren in your prayers.

Please pray for the repose of the soul of Maurice Carrier, a longtime St. Augustine parishioner. His Mass of Christian Burial will be held on May 1, at 10 AM, at St. Augustine Catholic Church. We ask that you keep his wife, Jean, and his entire family in your prayers.

Lenten Collection for Second Harvest

We are in the final stretch of our annual Lenten food drive and what a wonderful success it has been! Our generous St. Augustine parishioners continue to make a difference in people’s lives.
