

Our Sisters

Today, 22 Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet live and work in Peru. Living out the mission set forth for the Sisters of St. Joseph 365 years ago, they serve God and the Dear Neighbor without distinction. Our sisters live in five communities in the cities of Lima and Tacna, where they support each other and share meals, prayer and laughter.

Peru

Slightly smaller than Alaska, Peru lies on the Pacific coast of South America. Its capital, Lima, is home to 10 million people, making it the third largest city in the Americas. Peru's economy has grown in recent years, but the gulf between rich and poor remains. Food insecurity, illiteracy, and lack of essential services make life difficult for a majority of Peruvians. In some rural areas, up to 60% of the population lives in poverty.

Our neighbors are hungry for our presence with them. I think my presence communicates without words that the other person really matters to me. This is a deep human need--to know that we matter to another person.
