CHURCH OF ST. THERESA, BRONX

FROM THE DESK OF FATHER DERIVAN

Our gospel today is a sort of preview of the Holy Season of Lent which begins in a few short weeks. Often Lent starts even in early February. Lent starts later this year, on March 6th and extends to the celebration of Easter on April 21st. In a way, this gives us some extra time to prepare for Lent, to make Lent a fruitful time for each of us.

Our gospel today is a kind of preview for Lent. During Lent we are asked to do penance, remembering that we are all sinners in need of God's mercy. In fact the prayer for the giving of ashes gives us the words of Jesus at the beginning of His public ministry, "Repent and believe in the Gospel."

Our gospel at Mass today is a kind of Examination of Conscience for us as we prepare for Lent. When we go to confession, we prepare by examining our conscience on the sins (mortal and venial) for which we ask God's forgiveness. Another good practice every night is to have what is called "the particular examen," reflecting on some items or items that we should work on or improve.

Let me mention some items from Jesus' words in today's gospel:

- "Do to others as you would have them do to you." Do I treat others - - family, friends, co-workers—in a way which I would want them to act towards me?
- "Give to everyone who asks from you." Do I give not only material things, but I give my time, my attention, my concern to the person who needs my help, to the person who needs a listening ear or a helping hand? Or do I give only when I can expect something in return, rather than having the "pure giving" that is its own reward?
- "Love your enemies and do good to them." Do I love my enemies, in the sense of those who do not agree with me, those who may have offended me or hurt me, and even those who may have betrayed me? Do I try to win them back by my kindness and forgiveness? And when everything else fails, do I pray for them?
- "Stop judging and you will not be judgment." Do I give into the temptation to be judgmental, to be self-righteous? "Do not condemn." Am I guilty of condemning others knowing that judgment belongs to God alone?
- "Forgive and you will be forgiven." Do I expect God to forgive my sins when I am not ready to forgive others who have offended me? Do I just say the words of the Our Father, but not mean them, "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us?" Do I forget that we are never more like God than when we forgive others?
- "Be merciful just as your Father is merciful." Do I forget those beautiful words that God is "rich in mercy?" Do I forget the parable of the Prodigal Son who wastes his father's inheritance, but who returns to receive the forgiveness of his father who says, "My son was lost, but now is found. He was dead and has come back to life?" Do I forget the mercy of Jesus on the Cross, His Divine Mercy which shines forth from His wounded, but always loving heart?

If all of those things sound hard, almost impossible for us to follow, remember that you are not alone. The Lord Jesus has given us His Holy Spirit to be our strength and our guide. We have the Holy Spirit to help us to walk in the right path. He will not let us down.

Take time in the next two weeks to prepare for Lent. Take time to examine your conscience. Take time to examine your Christian life. May the Holy Spirit always be with you.

Father Thomas B. Derivan

MARCH 2ND
BLESSED CHARLES THE GOOD
Martyr

In 1086, St. Canute, king of Denmark and father of Blessed Charles the Good, was slain in St. Alban's church, Odense. Charles who was only five years old was taken by his mother to the court of Robert, Count of Flanders, his maternal grandfather. When he grew up, he became a knight and accompanied Robert in a crusade to the Holy Land where he distinguished himself; on their return, Charles also fought against the English with his uncle.

On Robert's death, his son Baldwin succeeded him and designated Charles as his heir. At the same time, he arranged for Charles's marriage to the daughter of the Count of Clermont. During Baldwin's rule, Charles was closely associated with him, and the people came to have a high regard for his wise and beneficent ways as well as his personal holiness. At Baldwin's death, in 1119, the people made Charles their ruler.

Charles ruled his people with wisdom, diligence, and compassion; he made sure that times of truce were respected and fought against black marketers who hoarded food and were waiting to sell it at astronomical prices to the people. This incurred their undying wrath and one day (in 1127) as Charles was praying in the church of St. Donatian they set upon him and killed him.

PRAYER Almighty, ever-living God, You enabled Blessed Charles to fight to the death for justice. Through his intercession enable us to bear all adversity and with all our strength hasten to You Who alone are life. Amen.

SEVENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

MESSAGE OF OUR RETIRED POPE BENEDICT XVI FOR THIS SUNDAY'S GOSPEL

This Sunday's Gospel contains some of the most typical and forceful words of Jesus' preaching: "Love your enemies." It is taken from Luke's Gospel, in the context of the discourse that opens with the famous "Beatitudes". Jesus delivered it in Galilee at the beginning of his public life: it is, as it were, a "manifesto" presented to all, in which he asks for his disciples' adherence, proposing his model of life to them in radical terms.

But what do his words mean? Why does Jesus ask us to love precisely our enemies, that is, a love which exceeds human capacities? Actually, Christ's proposal is realistic because it takes into account that in the world there is too much violence, too much injustice, and therefore that this situation cannot be overcome except by countering it with more love, with more goodness. This "more" comes from God: it is his mercy which was made flesh in Jesus and which alone can "tip the balance" of the world from evil to good, starting with that small and decisive "world" which is the human heart.

This Gospel passage is rightly considered the magna carta of Christian non-violence. It does not consist in succumbing to evil, as a false interpretation of "turning the other cheek" claims, but in responding to evil with good and thereby breaking the chain of injustice.

Love of one's enemy constitutes the nucleus of the "Christian revolution of love," a love that does not rely ultimately on human resources but is a gift of God which is obtained by trusting solely and unreservedly in his merciful goodness. Here is the newness of the Gospel which silently changes the world! Here is the heroism of the "lowly" who believe in God's love and spread it, even at the cost of their lives.

Let us ask the Virgin Mary, docile disciple of the Redeemer who helps us to allow ourselves to be won over without reserve by that love, to learn to love as he loved us, to be merciful as Our Father in Heaven is merciful.

Angelus Message, February 18, 2007

PRAYER FOR PEACE OF POPE FRANCIS
September 30, 2016

Lord Jesus, we adore your cross which frees us from sin, the origin of every division and evil; we proclaim your resurrection, which ransoms man from the slavery of failure and death; we await your coming in glory, which will bring to fulfillment your kingdom of justice, joy and peace.

Lord Jesus, by your glorious passion, conquer the hardness of our hearts, imprisoned by hatred and selfishness; by the power of your resurrection save the victims of injustice and maltreatment from their suffering; by the fidelity of your coming, confound the culture of death and make the triumph of life shine forth.

Lord Jesus, unite to your cross the sufferings of the many innocent victims: the children, the elderly, and the persecuted Christians; envelop in paschal light those who are deeply wounded: abused persons, deprived of freedom and dignity; let those who live in uncertainty experience the enduring constancy of your kingdom: the exiles, refugees, and those who have lost the joy of living.

Lord Jesus, cast forth the shadow of your cross over peoples at war; may they learn the way of reconciliation, dialogue and forgiveness; let the peoples so wearied by bombing experience the joy of your resurrection: raise up and reunite your dispersed children under your gentle kingship: sustain Christians in far off lands and grant them the unity of faith and love.

O Virgin Mary, Queen of peace, you who stood at the foot of the cross, obtain from your Son pardon for our sins; you who never doubted the victory of his resurrection, sustain our faith and our hope; you who are enthroned as Queen in glory, teach us the royal road of service and the glory of love.

Amen

BEREAVEMENT SUPPORT GROUP

The Bereavement Support Group is a time for prayerful reflection, sharing one's grief journey, learning strategies for coping, and discovering that you are not alone as you begin to find healing and consolation.

The Bereavement Support Group at St. Benedict's is held in the convent downstairs, 1082 Edison Avenue, every Saturday beginning Saturday, March 2nd from 11:00AM until 12:30PM. If interested, please call the rectory at 718-828-3403, ext 101.

BECOMING LIKE ST. FRANCIS

Even if you know nothing about the life of St. Francis, you could model your life after his by just paying attention to just some of the lines in the prayer associated with his name, known as the prayer of St. Francis.

Let me be an instrument of your peace

That should be an easy model to follow. Be the peacemaker in the family fight, be the peacemaker in the office jealousy problem, be the peacemaker in the Church council meeting, be the peacemaker instead of giving in to road rage on the highway. But short tempers and too much time listening to people shouting on television or the radio can make our fuses short too. How do we resolve this? How do we resolve anything, look outside yourself. That person in your family fighting with you may be remembering a long lost hurt. Try talking with them, or listening - even better. Remember the saying "God gave us two ears but only one mouth for a reason."

Where there is despair, hope

This doesn't just mean that we HOPE everything will be all right. But this hope is instead the knowledge that God loves us and no matter what the trouble or woe, God will be there to welcome us home when we pass this time of trial and see Him face to face. This hope is what gets us through small disappointments and greater losses like the death of a loved one. This hope is our gift to others in our lives who may not have the strong faith we do, who need this lifeline when they are drowning.

For it is in giving that we receive, pardoning that we are pardoned

Ah perhaps the hardest part of the prayer to follow. As faulty humans we are designed for self-preservation. We instinctively want to take and do whatever we can to make ourselves feel better. It turns our simple sensibilities on our heads to be confronted with the thought that we are actually better off when we give. Try it. Try giving, even when it is hard. Next time you argue with your family member forgive first, don't stand your ground and wait. In doing this we follow in the footsteps of our beloved St. Francis, the humble preacher who gave up everything and joyfully became a true follower of Christ.

FEBRUARY 25TH
BLESSED SEBASTIAN OF APARICIO
Religious

Born in 1502 into a poor family of Galicia, Spain, Sebastian worked as a domestic servant and laborer. In 1531, he emigrated to Mexico, settling first in Veracruz and later in Puebla of the Angels. After transporting freight and then the mail, he became rich by building roads. Yet, he continued to lead a simple life, sleeping on a mat and eating the poorest foods while contributing generously to the needy.

In 1552, Sebastian retired to a place near Mexico City where he cultivated the ground and bred livestock. Later at over sixty years of age he wed twice—but each time he was quickly widowed. At the age of seventy, he felt the call to the religious life. Giving all his wealth to the Poor Clares, he joined the Franciscans in Mexico City.

Sebastian was sent to Tecali, then to a community of more than a hundred friars in Puebla of the Angels, where he spent the last twenty-five years of his life. He became a begging brother. To obtain food for such a large community, he had to use large carts, drawn by oxen, and traveled great distances to bring corn and other foods donated by charitable people.

Sebastian worked day and night without complaining and in union with his Redeemer. As a result, the images of this venerable old man and his large cart have remained inseparably linked in the history and traditions of the City of Puebla of the Angels. He died in 1600, at the advanced age of ninety-eight and was beatified in 1787 by Pope Pius VI.

PRAYER O God, You were pleased to give us Blessed Sebastian as a model and exemplar of Christian charity by sanctifying the activities of his daily life. Through his intercession, enable us to serve You ever with a pure heart in all the circumstances of our lives. Amen

MANY THANKS

We are most grateful to all our wonderful parishioners who have sacrificed so generously by increasing their weekly Sunday Contributions. Please know that your weekly increase is for the betterment of St. Theresa Parish, for the building up and improvement of our parish. We are most grateful to all of you who have helped to make a difference in our community. Please continue to help us in order to keep St. Theresa Parish the vital, growing parish that it is.

HOMEBOUND

If any member of your family or if any of your neighbors are "Homebound" and would like to receive Holy Communion at home, please call the Rectory so that a Priest or Eucharistic Minister might visit them.

A HEART WARMING STORY

“Tomorrow morning,” the surgeon began, “I’ll open up your heart...” “You’ll find Jesus there,” the boy interrupted. The surgeon looked up, annoyed “I’ll cut your heart open,” he continued, “to see how much damage has been done.” “But when you open up my heart you’ll find Jesus in there,” said the boy. The surgeon looked up to the parents who sat quietly. “When I see how much damage has been done, I’ll sew your heart and chest back up, and I’ll plan what to do next.” “But you’ll find Jesus in my heart. The Bible says He lives there. The hymns all say He lives there. You’ll find Him in my heart.” The surgeon had had enough. “I’ll tell you what I find in you heart. I’ll find damaged muscle, low blood supply and weakened vessels. And I’ll find out if I can make you well.” “You’ll find Jesus there too. He lives there.”

The surgeon sat in his office, recording the notes from the surgery, “...damaged aorta, damaged pulmonary vein, widespread muscle degeneration. No hope for transplant, no hope for cure. Therapy: painkillers and bed rest. Prognosis, here he paused, “death within a year.” He stopped the recorder, but there was more to be said “Why?” he asked aloud. “Why did you do this? You’ve put him here; You’ve put him in this pain; and You’ve cursed him to an early death. Why?”

The Lord answered and said. “The boy, My Lamb, was not meant for your flock for long, for he is part of My flock, and will forever be. Here in My flock, he will feel no pain, and will be comforted as you cannot imagine. His parents will one day join him here, and they will know peace, and my flock will continue to grow.” The surgeon’s tears were hot, but there was something that needed to be said. “You created that heart, He’ll be dead in months. Why?”

The Lord answered, “The boy, My lamb shall return to My flock, for He has done his duty; I did not put My lamb with your flock to lose him, but to retrieve another lost lamb.”

The surgeon performed the operation. Afterwards he returned to the boy’s room and remained there for quite a while.

The surgeon wept. The surgeon sat beside the boy’s bed; the boy’s parents sat across from him. The boy awoke and whispered, “Did you cut open my heart?” “Yes” said the surgeon” “What did you find?” asked the boy. “I found Jesus there,” said the surgeon.
