"Know that I am with you always; yes, to the end of time."

In the National Gallery in London is a painting by the seventeenth-century Spanish artist Bartolomé Esteban Murillo. It is a painting, at first sight, of the Holy Family; but it has an odd title: The Heavenly and Earthly Trinities. In the center of the painting we see the child Jesus, standing on a rock, his hands held by Mary and Joseph, who sit either side of him. As the Christ child looks up, his face is brightened by the opening of the heavens, from where descends the Spirit, in the form of a dove, sent by the Father, visible as the clouds part. It is a picture of the centrality of Jesus as the one who opens up earth to heaven. It is a picture not just of the three people of the Holy Family and the three persons of the Holy Trinity, but, more profoundly, of the meaning of the Trinity itself.

Perhaps what this painting most powerfully expresses is love. There is a loving we can all relate to in the familial love of Mary, Joseph and Jesus: the mother's adoring and delighted look at her son, the father's supportive hand, and the child's physical dependency on his parents. There is something properly human and "earthly" here. And it is precisely here that we glimpse what is most true and most mysterious about God: that God is truly and totally God, and other than us, and yet, at the same time, comes to us as one of us, so that we can be sharers in God's life.

It is all too easy on Trinity Sunday to content ourselves with naming the Trinity as "mystery" and then go about our business as normal. Yet what today's readings teach us is that this is a profoundly practical teaching of our faith: the Trinity tells us who we are, as baptised people; it opens up the riches of prayer and intimate life with God; it assures us of God's closeness to us as we go out to do God's work in the world.

In practice, then, simply to begin each day "in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit" can be a way of entering, day by day, more deeply into this mystery of love. To call on God as our Father, Abba, throughout the day, is the practice of prayer that most closely brings us to Jesus, as his family, and opens our hearts afresh to the life of the Spirit. From such prayer we can find small but powerful ways of living the mission of the Trinity in our lives. Let's find moments in the coming week where, like God who is Trinity, we can go out to others in love, knowing God is with us in all things.

Jesus loves you,
Fr. Bill

STEWARDSHIP ~ A HABIT OF THE HEART

Pastries for Priests!

June 1 and 2 ~ Huge Bake Sale

Mark those calendars for June 1-2 if you want to get in on one of the best fundraisers we will have at St. Philip's this year!

Why are we raising funds? The dedicated group of women who fold and stuff our bulletins every week of the year have shown some real passion for taking care of our priests. When they heard that our Rectory had some areas in dire need of re-modeling and upgrading, they decided they were going to do one of the things they do best. In addition to praying for a successful project, they decided they would offer their best baked and cooked foods to offer at a free-will sale.

How will the bake sale work? After each Mass on the weekend of June 1 and 2, these ladies will have tables laden with home baked goodies. The goodies will not be labeled with a price. Instead, they will ask that you give prayerful thought to how generous you can possibly be in exchange for these priceless cakes, cookies, pies, breads, fudge, chocolate covered cherries....

The Goal: The entire remodel and wiring update, plus new carpeting in the upstairs corridor and two bedrooms is going to cost approximately $42,000. Any money raised above that goal will be used for the next Rectory project.

Anyone wanting to contribute home baked or cooked products to the sale are asked to drop them off on Saturday from 1:00 through the start of Mass, and on Sunday before Mass. The more we have – the better!*

Pastoral Council Meeting Notes for May

As always, please talk to any of your Pastoral Council representatives with any questions. They are listed on page 5 of this bulletin.

"The Spirit itself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, and if children then heirs, heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ..." - ~Romans 8:16-17

If we are heirs to the kingdom of God, shouldn't we work to build up His kingdom? Shouldn't we be good stewards of our inheritance, using our time in prayer, our talent in charitable works and our treasure to care for the Church that God has left to us? Our Church is a treasured heirloom from God. Do we treat it that way?

"Even the weakest and most vulnerable, the sick, the old, the unborn and the poor, are masterpieces of God's creation, made in his own image, destined to live forever, and deserving of the utmost reverence and respect."
