Scripture Outline & Reflection

Acts of the Apostles 4:32-35;
Psalm 118:2-4, 13-15, 22-24;
1 John 5:1-6;
John 20:19-31

Thomas believed because he saw the risen Jesus (3). Although we have never seen him, we believe that Jesus is the Christ, begotten by God (2). We give thanks to the Lord (Ps) that he has formed us into a community of believers (1), united in the Spirit.

For the sake of His Sorrowful Passion, have mercy on us and on the whole world.

With what shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before God on high? Shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old...? He has showed you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God?

Yes, the first Sunday after Easter is the Feast of Mercy, but there must also be deeds of mercy, which are to arise out of love for Me. You are to show mercy to our neighbors always and everywhere. You must not shrink from this or try to absolve yourself from it.

Saint Faustina

The Spirit of the Lord came upon and He instructed me to say, "Thus says the Lord..."

— Ezekiel 11:5

Reflection: The Prophet Ezekiel received a more ecstatic version of the gift of the Spirit than did many of his fellow Prophets. Some have wondered whether he might have been mentally ill. Yet even if that is true, God worked through him for God does not choose those who are perfect but rather the broken.

Prayer: Holy Spirit, may I not see my brokenness as a curse but rather as an opportunity to grow in Your love.

April 6th

On the Cross Jesus said, "I thirst." He was not asking for something to drink. When they offered Him vinegar He didn't drink it... Very often we offer Jesus a bitter drink too. This bitterness comes from the depths of hearts and wells up in our worlds. When we give this bitterness to each other, we give it to Jesus.

April 7th

The basis of all disappointment is the disproportion between what we imagine or wish for to make us happy and what we actually possess.
