Do Something Beautiful for God

The Essential Teaching of Mother Teresa

Young people are full of love and strength, do not waste your energy on useless things. Look around and you will see your brother and sister, not only here in the United States, not only in your city or your area, but around the world. Everywhere there are human beings who are hungry, they look to you. There are so many who have nothing to wear and nowhere to love, and they look hopefully to you. Don't turn your back on the poor, because they poor are Christ.

Haz Algo Atractivo para Dios

Las Enseñanza Esenciales de Madre Teresa

Los jóvenes estan llenos de amor y de fortaleza; no malgastes tus energías en cosas inútiles. Mira a tu alrededor y verás a tu hermano y a tu hermana, no solo aquí en los Estados Unitos, no solo en tu ciudad o en tu región, sino en todo el mundo. En todas partes hay eres humanos que tienen hambre, y te miran a ti. Hay tantos que no tienen nada que ponerse y ningún lugar para amar, y te miran con esperanza. No le des la espalda a los pobres, porque los probres son Cristo.

Kindness has a powerful influence on others

Kindness is constantly winning stray souls back to God by opening hearts that seemed obstinately closed. "Kindness has converted more sinners than either zeal, eloquence, or learning; and these three last have never converted anyone, unless they were kind also."

We often begin our own repentance by acts of kindness, or through them. Probably the majority of repentances have begun in the reception of acts of kindness, which touched men by the sense of their being so undeserved.

By kindness, you encourage others in their efforts after good. All of us need encouragement, and most of us must have praise. Kindness encompasses all the virtues of praise without its vices. When you are praised, you are praised at some expense, and at your own expense, for praise may encourage pride. But kindness puts you to no expense and, at the same time enriches those who are kind to you. Kindness is the most graceful attitude you can assume toward another, whereas praise implies some degree of condescension. Kindness is the only sort of praise that is always and everywhere true.

There are few things that resist grace so much as discouragement. Many plans for God's glory have failed because there was no bright look or kind eye or kind word to support them. You may not have come forward with the help your brother needs, because you were busy with your own work and never looked at his, or because you were jealous and looked coldly and spoke critically.

A kind deed, a kind word, or the mere tone of voice is enough to convey sympathy to the poor suffering heart, and in one instant all is right again. The downcast soul is encouraged to do bravely the very thing which, in a mood of discouragement, it had almost resolved to leave undone. That encouragement may be the first link of a new chain, which, when finished, will result in final perseverance.

33rd Sunday of Ordinary Time: Considering the economic injustice experienced by the impoverished and the violence unfolding throughout the world, may our prayerful hope continue to be, as St. John Paul II implored on the centenary of Rerum Novarum, that "people learn to fight for justice without violence, renouncing class struggle in their internal disputes, and war in international ones" (Centesimus Annus, 23).

XXXIII domingo del Tiempo Ordinario: Considerando la injusticia económica experimentada por los pobres y la violencia desarrollándose alrededor del mundo, que nuestra esperanza en oración continúe siendo, como imploraba San Juan Pablo Ii en el centenario de Rerum Novarum, que la "gente aprenda a pelear por la justicia sin violencia, renunciando a la batalla de clases en sus disputas internas, y a la guerra en las disputas internacionales" (Centesimus Annus, 23)
